Julia Boserup

Age: 20 (9/9/91)

Hometown: Boca Raton, Fla.

Ranking: 245

Boserup won her first career USTA Pro Circuit title in September at the $25,000 event in Redding, Calif., and she also reached the semifinals of the $50,000 event in Raleigh, N.C., and the $25,000 event in Jackson, Miss., to break the Top 250 for the first time. A former junior standout, Boserup had her breakthrough in December 2008, winning the prestigious Dunlop Orange Bowl for her first title on the ITF World Junior Circuit. She also reached the second round of the girls' singles at the 2009 US Open and has competed in the junior Australian Open and junior Wimbledon. A two-time practice partner for the U.S. Fed Cup team, Boserup trains full-time at the USTA Training Center Headquarters in Boca Raton, Fla.

Madison Brengle

Age: 21 (4/3/90)

Hometown: Dover, Del.

Ranking: 200

Brengle has posted strong results in 2011, including winning her second career professional title at the $25,000 USTA Pro Circuit event in Hammond, La., and qualifying for the $100,000 in Vancouver, Canada. In her career, Brengle has played in the main draw at three of the four Grand Slam events, winning USTA wild card playoffs to earn entry into the Australian Open (2007-08) and the French Open (2008). Brengle was also an outstanding junior competitor, rising to No. 4 in the world junior rankings in 2007 after reaching the girls' singles final at both the Australian Open and Wimbledon.

Lauren Davis

Age: 18 (10/9/93)

Hometown: Gates Mills, Ohio

Ranking: 272

Davis has transitioned between elite junior play and professional competition in 2011, with success in both. She won the USTA Girls' 18s National Championships to earn a wild card into the main draw of the 2011 US Open. Earlier this summer, she captured two USTA Pro Circuit titles at back-to-back $10,000 events in Buffalo, N.Y., and Atlanta. Davis finished 2010 on a 32-match winning streak, capturing two USTA Pro Circuit singles titles to crack the Top 300, and winning three international junior singles titles, including the Orange Bowl, to rise to No. 3 in the world junior rankings. She also won a USTA playoff to earn a wild card into the main draw of the 2011 Australian Open. There, she fell to Australia's Samantha Stosur, the No. 5 seed, in the first round.

Irina Falconi

Age: 21 (5/4/90)

Hometown: Jupiter, Fla.

Ranking: 73

Falconi turned in her best performance as a professional at the 2011 US Open, upsetting No. 14 Dominika Cibulkova in the second round in Arthur Ashe Stadium and then taking an American flag out of her bag and carrying it around the court. The US Open completed a year in which the former collegiate standout played in all four Grand Slam events after qualifying for the Australian Open and Wimbledon and winning a USTA playoff to earn a wild card into the French Open. Falconi also reached the main draw of the 2010 US Open as a qualifying wild card. She posted her career-best showing in a WTA event in July, when she reached the semifinals in College Park, Md., and in February she reached both the singles and doubles finals at the $100,000 USTA Pro Circuit event in Midland, Mich. She also was selected to represent the U.S. in the Pan Am Games in Guadalajara, Mexico, in October. Falconi, the 2010 college Player of the Year as a sophomore at Georgia Tech, was born in Ecuador and moved to New York City at the age of 3. She learned to play on public courts in Manhattan.

Edina Gallovits-Hall (ROU)

Age: 26 (12/10/84)

Hometown: Atlanta

Ranking: 123

A professional for more than a decade, Gallovits-Hall has competed in all four Grand Slam singles main draws, advancing to the second round six times and improving her ranking each year from 2000 to 2008, when she approached the Top 50. She has finished in the Top 100 each of the last four years and ended 2010 at the highest year-end ranking (No. 75) of her career. After playing primarily in WTA events in 2009, Gallovits-Hall returned to the USTA Pro Circuit, where she reached the semifinals at two $50,000 events and one $75,000 event this year. She has also competed for her native Romania in Fed Cup.

Alexa Glatch

Age: 22 (9/10/89)    Hometown: Newport Beach, Calif.    Ranking: 148

Glatch is on the comeback trail after an injury-marred 2010. In 2011, she qualified for Wimbledon and also qualified for WTA events in Copenhagen, Denmark, and Memphis, Tenn., where she advanced to the quarterfinals. Following the 2011 US Open, she reached the final of the $50,000 USTA Pro Circuit event in Las Vegas. In 2009, Glatch propelled the U.S. to the Fed Cup final by winning two of the U.S.'s three points—dropping just six games in four sets against two Top 50 players—in its 3-2 semifinal victory against the Czech Republic. As a junior, Glatch reached the girls' singles and doubles finals at the 2005 US Open, but she suffered career-threatening injuries in a motor scooter accident shortly thereafter. She returned to the USTA Pro Circuit the following year and won her first career pro title at the $10,000 event in Fort Worth, Texas.

Jamie Hampton

Age: 21 (1/8/90)    Hometown: Auburn, Ala.    Ranking: 124

Hampton climbed more than 550 spots in the WTA rankings in 2010 by reaching the final at eight USTA Pro Circuit events, highlighted by four singles titles. She maintained that momentum into this year, qualifying for the main draw at the Australian Open and competing in the main draw of the US Open. She also qualified for WTA events in Indian Wells and Miami, and reached the singles and doubles finals at the $100,000 USTA Pro Circuit event in Vancouver. As a junior player, Hampton twice won the USTA Girls' 18s doubles title (2007-08) to earn a wild card into the US Open women's doubles draw.

Krista Hardebeck

Age: 17 (9/20/94)    Hometown: Santa Ana, Calif.    Ranking: 421

Hardebeck has established herself as one of the most promising junior players in the U.S. over the past two years. She reached both the singles and doubles quarterfinals of the 2011 US Open Junior Championships and reached the third round of the girls' singles at Wimbledon. In April 2010, Hardebeck went 12-0 in junior singles play, winning the USTA International Spring Championships and the Easter Bowl without dropping a set to join Sam Querrey and Melanie Oudin as the only players at the time to win both titles in back-to-back weeks. Hardebeck was later awarded a wild card into the 2010 US Open Qualifying Tournament, where she won her opening match. In 2010, Hardebeck was recognized by Sports Illustrated in the "Faces in the Crowd" section, and she was also named by SI as a player to watch in the coming years.

Madison Keys

Age: 16 (2/17/95)    Hometown: Boca Raton, Fla.    Ranking: 301

Keys won the USTA's US Open playoff to earn a wild card into the main draw of the 2011 US Open, where she defeated fellow American Jill Craybas to become the youngest player to win a match at the US Open since Nicole Pietrangeli in 2005. Such firsts are not new for Keys. In 2009, she became the youngest player (14 years, 48 days) since Martina Hingis in 1994 to win a WTA tour-level match and the youngest ever to compete in World TeamTennis, defeating Serena Williams in a match in 2010. Keys captured her first professional title at the $10,000 USTA Pro Circuit event in Cleveland in 2010.

Lindsay Lee-Waters

Age: 34 (6/28/77)    Hometown: Dunwoody, Ga.    Ranking: 343

Lee-Waters, a mother of two, was the leading money winner on the women's USTA Pro Circuit in 2009 and had another successful year in 2010, winning four USTA Pro Circuit doubles events and advancing to two singles finals. Lee-Waters first broke into the Top 50 in 1995, when she qualified for Wimbledon and upset Pam Shriver in the opening round. Since taking time off in 2000 to give birth to her first child, a daughter, Lee-Waters has played primarily on the USTA Pro Circuit. Overall, she holds 30 USTA Pro Circuit career titles (19 in doubles), tying her for second all-time with Nana Miyagi. Lee-Waters has also competed in 13 US Opens, either in the qualifying or main draw, advancing to the second round in 1995 and 2004.

Varvara Lepchenko

Age: 25 (5/21/86)    Hometown: Allentown, Pa.    Ranking: 107

Lepchenko, a native of Uzbekistan, has been a consistent presence in and around the Top 100 for the past seven years. After a steady rise on the USTA Pro Circuit—she finished sixth or better on the USTA Pro Circuit prize money list each year from 2005 to 2008—Lepchenko competed in two Grand Slam events in 2009, three in 2010 and all four in 2011 (both in singles and in doubles). Moreover, in recent years she has played in a number of WTA events, reaching the second round in Miami and the round of 16 at five additional tour events in 2011. She also captured her 10th USTA Pro Circuit singles title by winning the $50,000 event in Kansas City in October. Lepchenko has been living in the U.S. since 2001 after receiving political asylum. She changed her nationality in 2007 to play for the U.S., and will officially obtain U.S. citizenship this year.

Mirjana Lucic (CRO)

Age: 29 (3/9/82)    Hometown: Tampa, Fla.    Ranking: 117

Lucic was one of the tennis' rising stars in the late 1990s, peaking at No. 32 in 1998 and advancing to the semifinals of Wimbledon in 1999. She also won the 1998 Australian Open doubles title with Martina Hingis and, in singles, advanced to the third round at the US Open in 1997 and 1998 and at the French Open in 2001. Lucic, however, went into semi-retirement in 2003, playing in just two events between the 2003 US Open and the 2007 WTA event in Memphis—both at the $75,000 USTA Pro Circuit event in Dothan, Ala. She officially launched her comeback in 2007 on the USTA Pro Circuit and won the first two USTA Pro Circuit titles of her comeback in 2010, finishing the year ranked in the Top 100 for the first time in 10 years. Lucic competed in all four Grand Slam events in 2011, reaching the second round of the US Open, and also advanced to the quarterfinals of tour events in Strasbourg, France, and Birmingham, England.

Christina McHale

Age: 19 (5/11/92)    Hometown: Englewood Cliffs, N.J.    Ranking: 42

McHale became the youngest player in the WTA Top 50 after reaching the third round of the 2011 US Open, defeating No. 8 seed Marion Bartoli in the second round. Three weeks prior, McHale upset world No. 1 Caroline Wozniacki at the Olympus US Open Series event in Cincinnati. The New Jersey native, who trains at the USTA Training Center-East in Flushing, N.Y., has also reached the third round at Indian Wells and the quarterfinals at Memphis on the WTA tour this year. In addition, she was named to the U.S. Fed Cup team for the World Group Playoff versus Germany in April and to the U.S. squad for the Pan Am Games in Guadalajara, Mexico, in October. A junior standout, she won the Australian Open girls' doubles title in 2009 and cracked the Top 10 in the world junior rankings that same year. Though born in New Jersey, McHale lived in Hong Kong from age 3 to 8 (her father's job was transferred there). She speaks English, Spanish and basic Mandarin.

Grace Min

Age: 17 (5/6/94)    Hometown: Duluth, Ga.    Ranking: 552

Min won the 2011 US Open girls' singles title without dropping a set, becoming the first American and the first unseeded player to win the US Open girls' singles title since CoCo Vandeweghe in 2008. En route to the title, she defeated the No. 2 seed in the first round and knocked off upset top-seeded Caroline Garcia of France in the final. Following the US Open, she peaked at No. 4 in the ITF World Junior Rankings. A standout junior player, Min reached the singles final at the 2010 Orange Bowl and won the girls' doubles title at Wimbledon in 2011. On the USTA Pro Circuit this year, she has qualified and reached the quarterfinals at the $25,000 event in Clearwater, Fla., and qualified and advanced to the round of 16 at the $50,000 event in Lexington, Ky. She has trained full-time at the USTA Training Center-Headquarters in Boca Raton, Fla., since the fall of 2009.

Asia Muhammad

Age: 20 (4/4/91)    Hometown: Henderson, Nev.    Ranking: 369

Muhammad learned to play tennis at the Andre Agassi Boys and Girls Club in Las Vegas, where she trained to become a Top 10 junior. In 2009, she won the doubles title at the USTA Girls' 18s National Championships with partner Christina McHale, earning a wild card into the women's doubles main draw at the US Open. Also at the Open that year, Muhammad upset the top seed in the girls' singles en route to the round of 16. Muhammad reached her first $50,000 final on the USTA Pro Circuit in 2008 in Las Vegas. This year, she has reached the quarterfinals at $50,000 events in Boston and Raleigh, N.C. Muhammad's father, Ronald, played basketball at USC, and her mother, Faye, was an All-American basketball player at Long Beach State.

Melanie Oudin

Age: 20 (9/23/91)

Hometown: Marietta, Ga.

Ranking: 143

Oudin teamed with countryman Jack Sock to win the 2011 US Open mixed doubles title as a wild card team, upsetting defending champions Bob Bryan and Liezel Huber in the second round. She also reached back-to-back doubles finals at the USTA Pro Circuit events in Albuquerque, N.M., and Las Vegas. Oudin enjoyed consecutive Grand Slam breakthroughs in 2009, defeating former world No. 1 Jelena Jankovic to reach the fourth round at Wimbledon and beating three-time Grand Slam champion Maria Sharapova en route to the US Open quarterfinals. She peaked at world No. 32 in April 2010 and has been a consistent force on the U.S. Fed Cup team. Oudin, who owns three career USTA Pro Circuit singles titles, has a twin sister, Katherine.

Alison Riske

Age: 21 (7/3/90)

Hometown: McMurray, Pa.

Ranking: 146

Riske enjoyed a breakthrough 2010, highlighted by a semifinal showing at the Wimbledon tune-up event in Birmingham, England, where her result earned her a wild card into Wimbledon. Overall, she improved her ranking more than 750 places from the start of 2009 to the end of 2010, finishing the season at a career-best No. 115. She has continued her strong play this year, reaching the quarterfinals in Birmingham and competing in the main draws at the US Open, Australian Open and Wimbledon. As a junior, Riske rose to No. 2 in the USTA Girls' 18s national standings and was a finalist at the 2007 USTA Girls' 18s National Championships. She also served as a practice partner for the U.S.'s 2008 Fed Cup semifinal against Russia.

Ahsha Rolle

Age: 26 (3/21/85)

Hometown: Miami Shores, Fla.

Ranking: 264

Rolle began 2011 by winning the first two USTA Pro Circuit doubles titles of the year with partner Mashona Washington, at the $25,000 USTA Pro Circuit events in Plantation, Fla., and Lutz, Fla. The duo also advanced to the semifinals of the $100,000 event in Midland, Mich., where Rolle reached the singles quarterfinals. Rolle's breakthrough came at the 2007 US Open, where she upset then-world No. 18 Tatiana Golovin en route to the third round. That same year she qualified for the Australian Open and reached the third round at the WTA event in Indian Wells. In 2008, she won a singles match as a member of the U.S. Fed Cup team in the World Group semifinals against Russia.

Sloane Stephens

Age: 18 (3/20/93)

Hometown: Lauderhill, Fla.

Ranking: 94

Stephens cracked the Top 100 for the first time in her career after reaching the quarterfinals of the Olympus US Open Series event in Carlsbad, Calif., and the third round of the 2011 US Open, where she upset No. 23 seed Shahar Peer in the second round. (With the victory, in fact, Stephens became the youngest player in the Top 100.) Also in 2011, Stephens qualified for the French Open for her first Grand Slam singles main draw appearance. Last year she was one of the stars of the world junior circuit, winning the girls' doubles titles (with Timea Babos) at the French Open, Wimbledon and the US Open, and reaching the singles quarterfinals or better at the same three junior Slams. Stephens climbed to No. 5 in the world junior rankings in 2009 and helped lead the U.S. to the 2008 Junior Fed Cup title. She also teamed with Robert Kendrick to upset the No. 1 seeds in the mixed doubles at the 2008 US Open.

Alexandra Stevenson

Age: 30 (12/21/80)

Hometown: San Diego

Ranking: 256

Stevenson first made waves in pro tennis more than a decade ago, when she became the first female qualifier in Wimbledon history to reach the semifinals (in 1999). She was ranked in the year-end Top 100 each year from 1999 to 2003, peaking at No. 18 in 2002. Injuries drove her rankings into the 600s in 2005, but Stevenson rebounded to climb back into the Top 200 in 2009, advancing to the final at the $50,000 event in Carson, Calif., for her best result on the USTA Pro Circuit since winning the $50,000 event in Midland, Mich., in 1998. So far this year Stevenson has qualified for three WTA events and also qualified and reached the quarterfinals of the now-$100,000 event in Midland. She is the daughter of basketball Hall of Famer Julius Erving.

CoCo Vandeweghe

Age: 19 (12/6/91) Hometown: Rancho Mirage, Calif. Ranking: 118

Vandeweghe broke into the Top 100 for the first time in her career earlier this year after qualifying for the Australian Open and reaching the quarterfinals of the WTA event in Memphis. She also reached the second round of the 2011 US Open and competed in the French Open and Wimbledon. In 2010, her breakout professional season, Vandeweghe defeated five Top 100 players to advance to the quarterfinals of the $2 million event in Tokyo as a qualifier, defeated Vera Zvonareva en route to the quarterfinals of the Olympus US Open Series event in San Diego and was named to the U.S. Fed Cup team for the 2010 final versus Italy. As a junior, Vandeweghe was the 2008 US Open girls' singles champion. Her mother, Tauna, was an Olympian in both swimming and volleyball, and her uncle is former NBA star Kiki Vandeweghe.

Mashona Washington

Age: 35 (5/31/76) Hometown: Houston Ranking: 640

Seven years after she peaked at No. 50 in the world in the WTA singles rankings, Washington remains an elite doubles player and a top contender on the USTA Pro Circuit. She holds 14 career USTA Pro Circuit doubles titles, including back-to-back $25,000 crowns in Florida this year in Plantation and Lutz with Ahsha Rolle. In singles, she also advanced to the 2011 US Open National Playoffs – Women's Championship. In 2004, Washington advanced to the quarterfinals at the Olympus US Open Series events in Stanford, Calif., and New Haven, Conn., where she defeated then-No. 7 Maria Sharapova, and a year later she reached the third round at Wimbledon. Her rise was halted by a knee injury suffered in 2006 while playing for the U.S. Fed Cup team; due to the injury, she did not compete in singles again for more than a year.

Ashley Weinhold

Age: 22 (6/20/89) Hometown: Austin, Texas Ranking: 181

Weinhold won her second career USTA Pro Circuit singles title at the $25,000 event in Rancho Mirage, Calif., in February, and one month later she upset 2009 US Open quarterfinalist Melanie Oudin in the first round of the $25,000 event in Pelham, Ala. She has since reached the quarterfinals or better at three USTA Pro Circuit events. Weinhold first made her mark on the USTA Pro Circuit by winning the 2006 singles title at the $10,000 event in Southlake, Texas, and the following year she won the 2007 USTA Girls' 18s National Championships to earn a wild card into main draw of the US Open. Weinhold served as a practice partner for the U.S. Fed Cup team in 2008 and played for the World Team Tennis St. Louis Aces in 2009.
